

Bon Appétit!

Where: Diner

Leaving the couples in the lounge, you find yourself in the island's restaurant. There's only one other diner present, but he refuses to identify himself. Instead, he simply points to the menu and advises you that you are what you eat...well, almost.

Breakfast dish made with eggs, ham, and green peppers (7 6)

Light dish that typically includes cantaloupe, grapes, and honeydew melon (5 5)

What paté is ... is it someone unimportant? (7 5)

Cut of meat taken from the hindquarter of a cow (7 5)

Dairy product similar to Cheddar named for a city in Wisconsin (5 6)

Thin brittle cookies often sweetened with molasses (11)

Sugary drink made with a certain citrus fruit (9)

Irish starch not made with yeast (4 5)

Cocktail made with two different crème de menthes and light cream (11)

Soda fountain offering (9)

Drink that may be "mulled" over (5 5)

Seafood soup made with mollusks and milk (6 4)