

Three-Ring Circus

Where: Circus

Far from the gym you find a circus taking place. A knifethrower nearly takes out the lion tamer, while acrobats tussle in the safety net below. A sad clown looks over the proceedings, ready to jump, while scalpers vie for passerbys. The ringmaster, an unkempt man in need of deodorant, invites you into the big top, where you see three rings in the center of the tent. You take a seat, and see the picture below written on your seat.
