

The Movie Theater

Where: Movie Theater

Inside the movie theater, you try to watch the movie, but keep hearing other people yakking away. Can't they wait until the end of the movie?

JB: Was it...the Detroit 4...412 or something like that, whatever the area code is in Detroit, was what these kids became known as, because these kids had hacked into the Pentagon's computers...all on their own and I think...I think we all took the blame for it...for inspiring something that the Pentagon said was not possible to do.

JC: And their response, "how shall we f off, oh Lord", I think that's just wonderful

JL: Now this is so sad, Feel Around, because if we only had two cameras, there'd be no matching problem.

KS: You know, not for nothing, you can say anything you want about me and what I've done or haven't done...but I got to have a light saber fight...with Luke Skywalker

LE: Michael, your noises and...David and his guns are the most commented on.

MB: And he said, Tex-X, no good, sounds like a blax-ploitation...film.

RF: We decided on using the vehicle to take the bodies away was a garbage truck because that's all they considered people. When the time came, they were garbage, and turned into something to eat.

RW: Did Ricardo like doing comedy?

TP: Now apparently what really happened...is that Packer claimed that he went to go find a different route, and when he came back, everyone was dead.

ZG: We lampoon it because she talks about how something horrible happened to her on Lincoln's Birthday
